NO REMEDY EQUALS PERUNA, SO THE WOMEN ALL SAY

Miss Susan Wyman.

Miss Susan Wyman, teacher in the Hitchcock School, Chicago, Ill., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman regarding Peruna. She says: "Only those who have suffered can have, can know what a blessing it is to be able to my experience. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and every bottle of Peruna I ever bought proved a good friend to me."

Mrs. Margaretta Harlan, 1214 North Superior St., Racine City, Wis., writes: "I feel so well and good and happy now that pen cannot describe it. Peruna is everything to me. I have taken several bottles of Peruna for female complaint. In the change of life and it does me good." Peruna has no equal in all of the irregularities and emergencies peculiar to women caused by pernicious calars."

Excursion Rates to as Well as From the East.

The Rock Island Springs a Surprise on the Colorado Lines at Meeting.

The Trans-Missouri Committee of the Western Passenger Association is holding its annual meeting at the Brown Palace hotel. A surprise was sprung on the Committee at the morning session, by General Passenger Agent Sebastian, of the Rock Island. Beginning about June 2, the Rock Island will run four excursions from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha to Colorado common points, making a rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip and return limit of October 31st on the tickets. These excursions will be run as special excursions and about the same date return excursions will be run from Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo to the Eastern points, the same rate prevailing, thus enabling Colorado people desiring to do so to make tourist trips east during the summer, with the same advantages granted Eastern tourists who come West.—Denver (Colo.) Times, April 16.

The Party of Prosperity and Plenty.

That which the Republican party engages to do invariably fulfills. It is a party economic of promise, but generous in redemption. It lightens taxes, pays debt, fills the Treasury and maintains the public credit.

It is, in one word, the party of constructive, invincible Americanism; the party with the unerring instinct and faculty of governing America for Americans. On two occasions only within forty years have the American people refused to entrust its government to Republican hands. The desire for change, always present in free countries, and overconfidence on the part of Republican leaders themselves, may, to a great extent, explain these temporary reverses suffered by the Republican party. On both occasions the people were quick to realize and eager to correct their mistake during

The Tale of a Cake.

For six dollars we offer for one year three papers, the combined price of which is nine dollars. The Morning Herald, of Lexington; The Kentucky Stock Farm and THE REPUBLICAN.

Now that Admiral Dewey's anger has caused the $10,000,000 to become public property, I have been able to secure from unexceptional sources the following statement of the facts:

"When President McKinley told Admiral Dewey that he wanted to pay him the same sum as the other civilian members were to receive, Admiral Dewey then volunteered to the President the statement that, in his opinion, there was but one candidate for President in this country, that there should be but one, Mr. McKinley.

"You have earned a re-election, and the people will give it to you," the admiral said. Dewey then went on to say that he had always been a Republican, that he was originally a Republican on the slavery issue, was afterward a Republican on protection, then on the money question, and was now a Republican on expansion. He thanked the President for all past kindnesses, and went away in a happy frame of mind. A few days later he started on a tour through the south.

"When Dewey returned from his

An east end car was loaded down with shoppers, mostly women, for it was in the middle of the afternoon. Conversation was proceeding at a great rate. It was like a pink tea or a session of the sewing circle. But all at once a hush fell over the fair chatters. A negro ladenter, bearing in his arms an immense cake three or four decks high and frosted over from pit to dome, as they say at a theater. There was a profusion of flowers by way of decoration, and delicate tracery of gauzy lace completed the embellishments. The cake was so large that the negro could scarcely carry it.

The cake told the whole story of the wedding, the bridesmaids, the orange flowers, the flower girls and the banquet afterward. Every feminine heart in that street car was aflutter as its owner gazed speechlessly upon the evidence of a wedding to be.

Finally when the car stopped to let on another passenger and everything was very still, one lady took courage to ask the negro where the wedding was going to be.

"What weddin?" asked the negro, his eyes protruding.

"The wedding that cake is for."

"Dis ain't no weddin cake."

"N'yom. Dia yere'a er cake walk cake."

There was a smile that reached from one end of the car to the other, and very soon conversation was resumed as before.—Memphis Scimitar.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27.

THE question, which the Supreme Court will have to consider in the Kentucky contest case, is jurisdiction. If the court declares that it has jurisdiction the case will end immediately, for the Goebelites will never permit their deeds of infamy unearthened. It would shock the civilized world. The deeds of the ancients are lustrous, compared to those of the present Democratic dynasty at Frankfort. Should the court decide that it has no jurisdiction we should like very much for some one to clearly set forth what its purpose is, anyway.

The Republicans will bear in mind that May 5 is the day for precinct conventions at the various precincts in the county and the object of this is of so great importance that every Republican in the county should attend. The county convention meets on the following Monday at the court house in Hartford. At this time the Republican county committee will be reorganized, a new chairman and secretary elected, delegates elected to attend the Fourth Congressional District convention, which meets at Elizabethtown, May 16; also delegates to attend the State convention, which meets at Louisville, May 17, and other important business will be transacted, so let every Republican come and participate in this convention, which is to be a most enthusiastic one. Come, bring your neighbors and friends.

THAT assumed editor of the Herald, from all accounts, is giving its real editor a great deal more mental anguish just now than his past work profited. THE REPUBLICAN is in no wise responsible for the acts of either of these gentlemen; it has frequently demanded that the assumed editor come out and fight in the open, but he has refused, and from all accounts, would really prefer to prove he was not fit. Its editor now accuses us with having charged him with gambling. We plead not guilty to this charge, from the fact that our contemporary offered publicly to wager us a sum of $50 and it stands to-day a sample of his own handiwork. It is, therefore, up to our editor, but a sentence, for the execution of his own head, written by his own hand. He morosely asks why did we not accept it. The public has our reason, and it can not be misunderstood. Of course, beyond all doubt, could procure the affidavit from his assistant that he had not written a line. No one doubts this, but what would it amount to? Having stood so faithful to him in times of threatened annihilation, the assumed editor would certainly not desert at this critical moment. We would suggest that the real editor read Emerson's essay on self-reliance and see what a splendid lesson there is in it for him. Si periculum in mora, he can present an affidavit at any time from his assistant, without waiting for us to identify him, because he is quite familiar with him and knows just how much work he has done.

The Controversy May End.

The Herald of Wednesday boldly declares that the controversy has ended upon its part, and that it must drop THE REPUBLICAN as unworthy of further consideration. This is, in fact, all the Herald men can do, having brought about a public controversy themselves with us and having been worsted on every proposition, it is but natural for its editor, or assumed editor, to declare the controversy off, that THE REPUBLICAN is unworthy notice. This is perfectly natural for them, being their accustomed manner of acknowledging a genuine thrashing. A hurt child always dreads the fire, likewise the vanquished views with abhorrence his conqueror. It is a well known fact that the Herald has had its way so long, that it finds in him who contradicts it, all the qualities and characteristics of a monster. The Herald has, at least, bound in match in THE REPUBLICAN, and, like a school boy that has had a severe flogging by his classmate, finds solace in giving vent to his little feelings in epithets and abuse of his compeer. This controversy was properly opened when the Herald put its "timely" questions to us and we were averse to believing that the public is tired of this until it has been thoroughly aired. Notwithstanding the fact that we answered the questions propounded to us in the plainest language we had at command and in the simplest manner possible, the Herald's editor referred to those answers in this language:

"The HARTFORD REPUBLICAN, in its bold fashion of its own, proceeds to answer the questions propounded to us last week by the Herald."

In attempting to mislead the public, the Herald of this week, refers to our dressing down we gave its editor, in our last issue for kueeling at the altar, and offering a public wager with us, and declares that it is such uncalled for attacks as this that lead it to refer to our answers in the manner above quoted, the editor, or the assumed editor, knows that this church affair had nothing to do with his referring to us in the above style, and when he makes statement to the contrary he prejures himself. It is nothing but that burning envy and green eyed jealousy lurking in his bosom that called forth such language, for out of the fullness of heart the mouth speaketh. THE REPUBLICAN has never questioned the religious standing of any man, and the charge of our contemporary that we have attacked his private and religious character is unfounded and he knows every word of it to be miserably false. It is only to call the attention of the public from the real question under discussion. We merely expressed our surprise at a gentleman so consecrated to the worship of his Master and at the same time classifying himself with gamblers. But he shall not dodge the issue, on such a silly, unfounded and ungentlemanly attempt. The Herald asked us three questions, we answered them; we asked the Herald, in turn, eight questions and it didn't answer them, but asked for proof that Goebel made use of certain expressions. Two of these assertions were made at Louisville and one at McHenry. The McHenry assertion was proven by such men as Drs. J. S. Smith and H. B. Innes, Messrs. E. L. Myers, Peter Lauder and J. W. Field. The evidence of these gentlemen would stand in any court in the land, but it would not suffice for the little Herald, so it procured two affidavits, one virtually concurring with Dr. Smith, et al, and the other was a flat contradiction of Dr. Smith's affidavit. The question now becomes one of veracity between Messrs. J. S. Smith, H. B. Innes, E. L. Myers, J. W. Field and Peter Lauder, on the one side, and Messrs. Rowan Holbrook, Shelly Taylor, Jas. F. Carson and W. H. Barnes on the other. We gave a brief sketch of Dr. Smith, et al, in our last issue. They are not politicians, but physicians, business men and laborers. These other gentlemen are all professional politicians. We do not desire to say who is mistaken, those gentlemen will vindicate themselves. We did what our contemporary demanded and here we close.

THE REPUBLICAN has not come up with the proof," says the Herald, "but, nevertheless, for its edification we will answer very emphatically the question it desires."

These are the questions:

"You can't count me and you can't count me out—struck."

"I have the election right there extending a tightly clenched fist where I had the concession of the ballot."

"The other fellow—the Republians may do the voting for us so we'll nominate the one."

Q. 1. DO THEY APPROVE GOEBEL'S STATEMENTS, ABOVE QUOTED?

"The Democratic ticket just nominated because to be elected. Under the operation of the Goebel election law the result is not left to chance."—Watterson to Delmont.

Q. 2. DO THEY SANCTION WATTERSON'S STATEMENT TO BELMONT, ABOVE QUOTED?

"I am ready to be my son's salvation again, a son-in-law if I can find one. There is no shadow in this election the Republians will not do it."—McHenry.

Q. 3. DO THEY ENDORSE THE STATEMENTS OF BLACKBURN AND WOODSON, ABOVE QUOTED?

Q. 4. DO THEY APPROVE OF SCOTT'S ATTEMPT TO BRIBE THE BROTHER-IN-LAW AND FATHER-IN-LAW OF YOUTSEV?

Q. 5. DO THEY BELIEVE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET WAS ELECTED BY THE POPULAR VOTE OF THE PEOPLE?

Q. 6. DO THEY APPROVE THE ACTIONS OF THE STATE BOARD—POINTZ, YONTS AND FULTON—in THROWING OUT THE COUNTIES OF JEFFERSON, MARTIN, JOHNSON AND MAGOFFIN IN THE STATE OFFICES AND YET ALLOW THE REPRESENTATIVES FROM THOSE DISFRANCHISED COUNTIES ACT IN THE CAPACITY OF LEGISLATORS?

Q. 7. DO THEY NOW ENDORSE THE GOEBEL ELECTION LAW?

The whole property-owning respectable people of Kentucky are going to sustain the administration of this Commonwealth now and forever, and they are going to hold some respect for law and public decency in the hours of 2,500,000 round non-voters and their substantial numbers in this state, as in no other states, that only the people who are capable of good government will be permitted to govern."—Woodson.

Q. 8. DO THEY SANCTION THE ABOVE STATEMENT FROM WOODSON?

And this is the answer:

THE REPUBLICAN has not come up with the proposed demand, but nevertheless, for its edification we will answer very emphatically the questions it desires. The list of these questions is, does the Herald "endorse" does it "sanction" does it "approve" of certain alleged intentions and actions of well known Democrats. The Herald has never lied, but it fails to endorse the personal views, intentions and actions of every Democrat in the state, whether of great or little renown, although perhaps the conditions imply just that. We have never stood ready to approve of everything that has been said and done in the name of Democracy. True Democracy does not consist in any such wholesale endorsement. Summarizing all these "sentiments," "approvals," etc., into one, we will say that we do not sanction any of the propositions and alleged actions quoted except the tested election law. We are emphatic for this law until a better one is devised. As to whether we believe that the Democratic ticket was elected by the popular vote of the people, we will say that it certainly was, after eliminating the fraudulent and intimidated vote, which gave the Republicans a majority on the face of the returns.

This answer is a general one, as our readers will readily discover. It will perhaps show up better after having been analyzed, the general "answer" is, we do not sanction any of the propositions and alleged actions quoted, except, the Goebel election law."

The Herald is "sincere," we hope, in its declaration, so we need not harass it longer. But let's see what it does not approve. It does not approve Goebel's statements; it does not approve Watterson's "let out" to Belmont; it certainly does not endorse the statements of Woodson and Blackburn; it refuses to countenance Scott's attempted bribe; they do not approve the action of the State board in disfranchising Kentucky; they don't take part in Woodson's white, property owners, &c. Can we believe them candid in their assertion? The editor and the assumed editor of the Herald have been endorsing the whole contest proceedings all the while and reproducing the Courier-Journal in every issue and when they declare that they do not endorse our sixth question, we do not believe them candid. By this declaration they repudiate their cause since the election. Do they mean to do this, or were they willing to say any old thing to get these questions from the public's eye? We leave this question with the public, because they are hors de combat. Let's look into answer, Q No. 5. "As to whether we believe that the Democratic ticket was elected by the popular vote of the people, we will say that it certainly was." But without multiplying words to prove the vanity of any claim, or stopping to inveigh against the fraud and intimidation that has been practiced against the Democratic candidates, we might as well accept the result, as now estimated, as final. Relying upon the most accurate figures at command from all sources, it appears that Gen. W. S. Taylor and the whole Republican ticket have been elected by majorities ranging at less than three thousand. * * * There are extravagant claims on both sides, but we are giving the situation as we truly believe it stands without any intention of misleading anybody.—Hartford Herald, Nov. 20th, 1889.

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.—W. O. Bradley, leading counsel for Republians, gave to the Associated Press the following authorized interview to-night:

"I have had no communication with Governor Taylor since he went to Washington. The press, I notice, state that he is there preparing his case for the Supreme Court. I am satisfied this is not true. Governor Taylor went to Washington on purely personal business not connected in any way with the trial of his case.

"Nor do I believe the report that he is in New York attempting to prevent the honoring of a requisition for his return to this State. As to whether a requisition could be lawfully issued by Beckham or would be recognized, it is unnecessary for me to express an opinion, as there are questions that must be determined by the authority upon whom such requisition may be made.

"Governor Taylor has publicly declared he was not and would never be a fugitive from justice; that if indicted he would respect the law and meet his accusers face to face. Therefore, there remains but one course open to him and that is to return as soon as he can, walk boldly and bravely into court and meet the indictment like a man. Any other course would be rank injustice, not only to himself, but to those of his friends who have been accused of so foul a crime. I do not know whether an indictment has been found against Governor Taylor, but it has I do not doubt he will promptly surrender himself into the hands of the law. I believe that any intimation to the contrary does him no injustice."

There has been method in all this baseness; the purpose has been to assassinate that he had a guilty knowledge of the crime, is testimony which from the nature of the case can not be given. Second, a grand jury by a vote of 9 to 3 may bring an indictment when the testimony, uncontradicted, would justify a presumption of guilt, but to convict 12 men on the jury must be convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the accused.

Gov. Taylor's vindication does not rest on these narrow grounds. The case against him has been magnified by all the devices of degraded journalism, but it has availed nothing. If an indictment has been found it will come only through much tribulation, and Gov. Taylor—his enemies having exhausted all the resources of personal and political animosity—will be ready to vindicate his name before an enlightened and a generous people.

—Louisville Post, (Dem.)

But this is not all. Another Frankfort correspondent pretends to state and with an air that indicates the information came from someone who imagined he knew the secret of the prosecution—pretends to state what the prosecution expects to prove Tuds writer says:

"The prosecution expects to prove by Senator Alexander of Louisville, that he was in Gov. Taylor's office when the shot was fired; that Gov. Taylor drew a revolver and ran out of the office."

The prosecution can prove nothing of the kind, for this statement is the one attributed to Senator Alexander two weeks ago by the Associated Press and by his defense of the Goebel election law in Congress.

The question, which seems to be agitating the Republicans, Brown Democratic and other lovers of liberty, is whether or not the Republican leaders are prepared to unity the elections in Louisville and other sections where discord and dissensions have entered the party ranks. We believe that the emergency will be met by capable leaders and those factional feelings of the past will be of the past, and the party will present a solid front in the event of another State election. There is not a man in our whole knowledge who voted for Taylor in the last struggle that has ever had cause to regret his vote. He would carry his party's whole strength. Besides the Republican vote, he would poll nine out of ten Brown votes, from the simple fact that the national election will cut no figure in politics in Kentucky. This pernicious influence of Gov. Taylor will yet remain.

Let two things be kept in mind:

First, the testimony on which the prosecution relies to prove by Gov.

These men, that broke away from party ties on the account of the elevation and exaltation of force and fraud in their party, were the very best men in that party. We speak from observation of those around Hartford and judge that it was the case all over the State. These men with independent spirits and with respect for the right, honor and justice, will never compromise with their party on terms of dishonor. So let the Republican party greet them and give them a hearty welcome into its folds. They will do honor to any party they may choose to link their fortunes with and if the Republican party will do the proper thing, as we believe it will, there is no reason why it should not have this band of political reformers and independents, with these brave sons of Democracy will come the honest sons of the Populist party. They shall every one be thrice welcomed and we hope they shall find a permanent abiding place in the ranks of that party that is to deliver Kentucky from bondage. Roberts Forced To Rest.

Explanation of His Long Pause at Bloemfontein.

"There is now no longer any doubt that the real cause of Lord Roberts' inaction since the occupation of Bloemfontein—with the solitary exception of the affair near Karré Sliding—has been the enormous loss of horses and the exhausted condition of his men.
The loss of horses has already been noticed on several occasions, but it is only through private letters from soldiers with Lord Roberts' army that the British public is learning of the hardships and privations to which the men were subjected during the march from the Mooer River to Bloemfontein.

"The commissariat arrangements were so bad that there were occasions when the men, marching and fighting, went as many as twenty-six hours without anything to eat and bivouacked on the open veldt in the piercing night cold in their summer clothing. And the transport animals dropped dead by hundreds from being overdriven.

"Lord Roberts is now receiving a large number of horses, but as the Boer activity will compel him to take the field as soon as his cavalry and mounted infantry are remounted, the animals, fresh from a sea voyage and unseasoned, will succumb as the others did before them, and the forthcoming operations promise to be pushed

If your liver is out of order, causing Fallowness, Sore Headache, Heartburn, or Constipation, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

On retiring, as I tomorrow your digestive organs will be regulated and you will be bright, active and ready for any kind of work. This has been my experience for 15 years. HOOD'S PILLS are sold by all druggists' dealers, 25 cts.

with a vigor quite equal to that with which the pursuit of Gen. Cronje and the subsequent movements were carried on.

"As yet, nothing of importance is reported from either side, but the bill can not last much longer, for the British and Boers south of Bloemfontein and Thaba N'Cluus must, by this time, be so nearly in touch that a collision may take place at any moment, followed by some of the most exciting incidents of the war.

"In connection with the question of the use of expanding bullets during the war, an officer with Col. Plana's force, writing on the subject, states that on January 7 last, his command was ordered to return all the Mark IV (Dum-dum) ammunition in store and to draw solid bullet cartridges instead. He incidentally mentions that in Major Col. Baden Powell has nothing but Mark IV, ammunition left. The admission is interesting, in view of the outcry against the Boers for using the same kind of ammunition which they had captured.

"The British casualty list lengthens steadily. Death from various causes number up to April 4, 429; wounded living at that date, 953; missing and prisoners 3,515. Out of the total of 17,681, the officers number 1,499."

"To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages in catarrhal troubles, the proprietors propose Ely's Liquid Cream Balsam. Price, including the spraying tube, is 75 cents. Druggists or mail. This liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balsam is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

The Family Described.

A Savannah sportsman who recently went on a fishing trip up the Savanah river tells a story of an old darky whom he saw on the bank of the stream. To engage the old man in conversation just for fun the sportsman called out:

"Whose place is this, old man?"

"It's Mr. Swinburne place," was the reply.

"Good, big place, isn't it?"

"Yassir, pretty big place!"

"Who's Mr. Swinburne got any children?"

"Yassir," was the answer, "he got four head ob daughter, but he ain't got no son."—Savannah (Ga.) News.

"The Proper Response.

Mama—Why did you let him kiss you?"

Daughter—Well, he was so nice he asked me—

Mama—But have I told you you must learn to say "No"?"

Daughter—That's what I did say. He asked me if I'd be very angry if he kissed me.—Philadelphia Press.

Quick to Respond.

"Mrs. Tufts-Hunter was saying to me that she thought it very likely you were eligible as a Colonial Dame," said the lady's dearest friend.

"Look at her," said the lady, "it's she is hinting around that I look like one of them Puerto Ricans, I'll sue her so quick it will make her head swim!"—Indianapolis Press.

The Wrong Word.

"You look robust," remarked the lady of the house. "Are you equal to the task of sawing wood?"

"Equal is not the word, madam," replied the pilgrim, as he resumed his journey, "I'm superior to it!"—Philadelphia Record.
